Leading the Charge

Ladies@AILA

with Lara Giddings

AILA is proud to launch Ladies@AILA which is designed to encourage, celebrate and support diversity and balance in the industry.

Ladies@AILA will provide education and networking events to encourage gender diversity in leadership, understanding of the positive impact of gender diversity in the industry, and to develop and promote different and diverse skill sets that bring about improved business strategy and decision making. After all, diversity and inclusion in the insurance industry is as important for an insurer's bottom line as predicting and understanding the risks that industry provides cover for.

At this special pre-conference event, Ladies@AILA brings you 'Leading the Charge' with Lara Giddings which will cover the challenges faced by businesses in bringing about gender balance, the positives that a business can derive from diversity, how to mentor and support women into positions of leadership, and her experience in what is needed to achieve a better gender balance at work and home. The event is inclusive of the presentation, drinks and canapes.

Lara Giddings was Premier of Tasmania from 2011 to 2014 and the first woman to hold that position. She was also the youngest woman to be elected to an Australian parliament in 1996. Lara stands as a role model for women in Australia, having successfully climbed the political ladder in Tasmania, at a time when it seems the Australian political landscape is particularly one sided when it comes to gender balance in positions of power. Lara is a strong advocate for progressive social policy, for women in leadership and the support required to allow women to achieve success. She is presently the CEO of AMA Tasmania and balances this with motherhood and family life.
